Today is the longest day of the year and those persons who have the habit of sleeping only during the night can now rejoice as the nights will gradually grow longer and the days shorter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Burgher were in Winchester the first of the week.

Cash or No Service.

Owing to such unsatisfactory collections in the publishing of Commissioner sales the Times in the future will print on such sales unless the order for the printing is accompanied by the cash to pay for the same. We have cut the rate half into and fixed the charges so it will be easy for any one to tell what they will be. The rate is now but 1 cent a word per insertion or 1 1/2 cent for three insertions the number of insertions required by law. Any one can count the number of lines in a job. If you want your business to appear you must leave this amount of money with the Commissioner or the publisher direct, otherwise there will be no publication of the sale. We regret to have to be so exacting, but as it has been we have not been able to collect more than half what we have earned and then wait from six months to two years to get this much. We do not want the business with such unsatisfactory returns, consequently have made the cash in advance plan effective from this date. No pay, no work.

To Evangelize.

Elder John I. Wills, of the Baptist church for years a leading minister of the bluegrass counties has been engaged by the Boone's Creek Association to do some evangelizing this summer in the mountain territory of this association which includes Powell, Estill, Lee and Owsley counties. Elder Wills is a native of this county and was ordained to preach the Gospel as a member of Salem church four miles south of this city thirty years ago. When Bro. Wills gets in this territory he will be at home again.

Circuit Court.

Circuit Court convened at Stanton Monday with Judge Benton on the bench and B. A. Crutcher, Commonwealth's Attorney assisted by County Attorney M. A. Phillips prosecuting. There was a large crowd present and several important cases to come up. In his charge to the grand jury Judge Benton said in the future the law as it applies to seining the running streams for fish in the future would be enforced, and warned the former violators of this law to be on their guard.

Among the visiting attorneys we observed J. B. White, of Irvine; J. P. Adams, of Jackson; Judge Scott, of Frankfort, and B. R. Jonett, of Winchester.

Tired of Saloons.

We learn an effort will be made this fall to get a local option election held in this county. The county is dry every where except in Clay City and the move of course is to get Clay City dry. Personally the wet goods in Clay City disturbs us but little, but it seems to disturb some others a great deal. It is for their sake and the sake of the boys coming on that the Times is seriously interested in getting liquor away from this town.

New Brick and Tile Plant.

Henry Derickson and some other enterprising citizens of Stanton have their brick and tile plant ready for operation. They have already made several thousand brick which will be used for their own use in the plant and also have burned a few joints of tile. The output is first-class in every particular, and the business promises to be a profitable venture and one of much usefulness to the people of the county.

Farm Bid in By the Heirs.

The G. W. Lyle place on Hardwick's creek was offered at public sale on the premises last Thursday but was bid in by the heirs at $8,000.00. This is a splendid farm of 200 acres which lays well and is one of the best farms in the county. Two smaller tracts of land not adjoining this place were sold, one to G. W. Clark and the other to Noah Russell.

Little Miss Lillie Burgher, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burgher, celebrated her birthday yesterday afternoon. A number of her little friends were present and had a delightful time. The little guests were served with a treat to oranges and bananas.

The preliminary figures of the thirteenth census of manufactures of Louisville show a decrease of 1 per cent. in the capital invested, and an increase of 61 or 7 per cent. in the number of establishments. The value of products in 1909 was $101,244,000 as against $83,204,000 in 1904, an increase 22 per cent.

Mrs. J. W. Williams will open a new grocery store in the drug store building July 1st which will also handle produce then. Read the new ad. elsewhere in this issue.

Born, Wednesday, June 20th to Mr. and Mrs. Joe King a son.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION.

Summer Care of Orchards.

In a season of drouth like that through which Kentucky and adjacent states are passing, the production of our orchards as well as our field crops is subject to a very serious reduction through lack of sufficient soil moisture to perfect the young orchard fruits.

The methods of avoiding or checking this loss in the orchard are the same in principle as those adopted in producing a full crop of corn or other field crop. The most effective and usually the cheapest plan is to keep up a frequent shallow cultivation of the soil with the spike tooth, or Acme harrow, or some other surface working implement.

The necessity of this frequent cultivation is often not so apparent as in the case of field or garden crops, since the foliage of the tree may continue to appear fresh and green while it is still unable to secure enough moisture to meet the additional demands of growing fruit. Under these conditions much of the fruit drops while small and that which remains fails to develop to normal size and quality.

On the other hand well authenticated instances are recorded where large and profitable peach crops have been secured in a time of drouth of more than a month's duration, by an almost daily working of the soil, when surrounding fruit farms have produced no crop worth marketing.

Under ordinary conditions the frequent cultivation of the early summer should be followed in July or early August by the sowing of some winter cover crop, such as cowpeas, soy beans, oats or rye, to be turned under early the following spring.

The persistent surface cultivation suggested above can of course be effectively carried out only when the orchard has previously been plowed and harrowed in the spring.

If the orchard is in grass or weeds some relief from the effects of drouth may be had by cutting the growth and spreading it under the trees as far as the branches extend, adding also some straw, grass, weeds or other vegetable matter that may be secured from other parts of the farm. This latter plan, persisted in from year to year, constitutes the "sod mulch system" and has been rather widely adopted in recent years by apple growers as a substitute for the somewhat more orthodox method of surface cultivation followed by the winter cover crop. It is especially suited to rough or hilly lands where a system of thorough cultivation is not practicable, but some of its most enthusiastic and successful advocates are located on comparatively level lands in our neighboring State of Ohio.

In apple growing districts which have been affected with the brown or bitter rot of the fruit, spraying with the Bordeaux mixture should still be continued at two weeks intervals as a means of holding these troublesome diseases in check.

C. W. Mathews, Prof. of Horticulture

Drouth Broken.

That the drouth is broken is no longer a doubt. The ground has been thoroughly wet and everything growing looks well. Corn is in unusually fine growing condition. The previous dry weather afforded excellent opportunity to thoroughly work it and the good rains are causing it to grow faster, it seems than ever before noticed.

The Mr. Byrd who last week held a series of meetings at the residence of George Hall and in the grove near his house and who was admitted through courtesy to a neighboring church to preach Saturday and Sunday, took occasion in one of his talks to make some remarks about the editor of the Clay City Times because he was referred to in one of our correspondence as a Latter Day Saint. If this man was as good as he professes to be a slight error like this would be overlooked, as any reasonable man knows mistakes will occur by the most careful. The Times has always gladly corrected any mistake it has made and this is the first time its editor has ever been censured publicly to our knowledge for a mistake. We judge this fiery expounder of the "Gospel truth" is wholly excusable however. We are told he said he wanted to see us. There is nothing to hinder him from seeing us seven days in a week if he will call at our office the six business days, and our home on Sunday. We are also anxious to see Mr. Byrd and try to find out what doctrine he preaches and what he calls the ——— he represents.

This home trade proposition extends to the merchant both ways. He expects his home people to patronize his business, and they should. But does the home merchant always patronize home trade? Louisville and Lexington are our home cities and merchants should, whenever possible, buy their goods from the wholesale men in these cities. Of course, however, the most important thing about the merchant's business is prices, and if our home cities cannot make the prices they are out. But it has always been our experience that the prices of Lexington and Louisville merchants has always been as low on most articles and on some things a great deal lower.

The Democratic primary of July 1st is working warm and the many candidates, are kept busy in the campaign. The Times has no suggestions to make to our readers as to the best men to vote for, we think any of them will do to beat the other side with. Of course the editor same as any other Democrat has his choice and will vote for them but we are not through these columns going to try to persuade others our way. The Times is for the nominees because we think they will be worthy. Each voter should make up his mind as to whom he will vote for before he goes into the booth and hunt that man up and vote for him whether he be at the top or bottom of the list of candidates.

E. T. Franks is continually muddling the water through which O'Rear must pass over to get the coveted Republican nomination for Governor of Kentucky. He is producing affidavits reflecting on the follower of LaFollette and says before the convention comes off he will so awaken Republican's eyes that the nomination will come to him with little effort. Franks seems to be a valuable asset of the Democrats and is fast proving both himself and O'Rear to be easy timber for a united Democracy to devour. Let the good work proceed.

If the Taft Republicans are really under the impression that the President will have no opposition for a renomination, they are laboring under an hallucination. Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, is in the field, and progressive Republican leaders in every state in the Union are working for La Follette delegates.

"Taft and sure defeat, or La Follette and a chance to win," is the battle cry of the La Follette forces.

Some things we can't get into our heads are right. One of them is that it is right for leader of a Sunday school in the forenoon to be leader of a game of ball in the afternoon. Another is, that it is right for a leader in the ball room to be a teacher of a Sunday school class.

really the fairest in the minds of the people of the commonwealth than any of the other Republican officials.

J. C. VanMeter has withdrawn from the race for Treasurer before the Democratic primary. The labor vote lined up against him and it was doubtless this that showed him the handwriting on the wall.

"Laying" or "Lying."

A young college graduate was working on a Kansas farm during the summer vacation who took a special delight in involving the old farmer in discussions. One day the farmer remarked that one of his hens, pointing her out, showed a desire to nurse some eggs into chicks. The young fellow immediately saw a chance for an argument, and asked the farmer if the hen was "setting" or "sitting" on the eggs. To which farmer replied: "Well, that don't interest me. The only way that hen interests me is when she cackles. Then I wonder whether she's 'laying' or 'lying'?"

Mosquitoes never get but a few yards away from their hatching place unless blown by the wind. If you have an open rain barrel, or other water about your place, it will make a fine breeding place for the wicked little buzzers, but a very small amount of coal oil poured on the water will stop them as readily as if you hunted out every egg. On a rain barrel only a few drops of oil is necessary. On a larger hole of water or small pond it may take several spoonfuls.

The Open Door

SCIENTIFIC NEW DISCOVERIES.

By the electro-magnetic telegraph an operator can exactly locate a fracture in a submarine cable nearly 3000 miles long. A few fossils sent to an expert geologist enable him to accurately determine the rock formation from which they are taken. This he can describe as perfectly as if the rocky formation was before him on the table.

So, also, in medical science. Disease has certain unmistakable signs or symptoms. By reason of this fact the physicians and specialists connected with Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, are enabled to accurately determine the nature of many chronic diseases without seeing and personally examining their patients. In recognizing disease without a personal examination of the patient, they do not claim to possess miraculous powers. They obtain their knowledge of the patient's disease by practical and well-established principles of modern science. Certain diseases display certain peculiar traits. Subjected to scientific analysis they furnish abundant data to guide the judgment of the skillful practitioner. This method of treating patients at a distance, by mail, has been so successful that there is scarcely a city or a village in the United States that is not represented by one or more cases upon the records of practice at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute. Such rare cases as cannot be treated in this way, which require surgical operations or careful after-treatment, or electrical therapeutics, receive the services of the most skillful specialists at the institution.

Dr. R. V. Pierce long ago established this Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute with a full Staff of Physicians who were expert in their specialties. These physicians may be consulted, by letter, free and without charge whatever, if you wish a specialist's advice upon any chronic malady. The same system of "specialties" is observed as in the departments of a medical college. The professor who would assume to lecture in all departments with equal ease and proficiency would be severely ridiculed by his colleagues, and it is just as absurd to suppose that the general practitioner can keep himself informed of the many new methods of treatment that are being constantly devised and adopted in the several departments of Medicine and Surgery.

People who have been patients at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., have much to say in regard to this wonderfully equipped Sanitarium, where all the latest electrical apparatus, as well as electric water baths, Turkish baths, static electric machines, high-frequency current, and other most modern and up-to-date apparatus are used for the cure of chronic diseases. The treatment of the chronic diseases that are peculiar to women have for many years been a large factor in the cures effected at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute.

The violet-ray treatment, which is another interesting proceeding, is carried out by concentrating the light, rich in the violet or chemical rays, from an arc light with a specially prepared carbon, upon any portion of the body that may be the seat of pain. Sufferers from neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism, strains, sprains, also from those obscure, exhausting pains (the origin of which cannot at times be accurately determined) frequently find immediate relief from a single treatment and usually with a little persistence in the use of this aid, comfortable health or perfect recovery is obtained.

Then, there is the incandescent light bath, consisting of a cabinet in which the patient is bathed in the combined rays of many electric lights. It has produced really wonderful results in diabetes, sciatica, rheumatism, obesity, anemia, and some forms of kidney and heart trouble. It has also proven valuable in chronic bronchitis, bronchial asthma and the various skin diseases. As a general hygienic measure its efficiency can scarcely be over-estimated.

In medicine there has been rapid and real progress during recent years, and Dr. Pierce has kept up with the times in that he has had the manufacture and ingredients in his well-known remedies improved in a modern laboratory by skilled chemists, the greatest care being exercised to see that the ingredients entering into his well-known medicines Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery" are extracted from the best variety of native medicinal roots, gathered with great care and at the proper season of the year, so that their medicinal properties may be most reliable.

Great care is exercised not to over-encourage those who consult the specialists of this institution that no false hopes may be raised.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical

Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound.

The per capita wealth of France is greater than that of any other nation in the world. The Wall Street Journal tells the total wealth of four nations as follows: United States, $125,000,000,000; Great Britain, $80,000,000,000; France, $83,000,000,000, and Germany, $61,000,000,000. France has 40,000,000 population, which gives $2,075 per capita; Great Britain has 46,000,000 people and $1,930 per capita; United States has 90,000,000 people and $1,390 per capita, while Germany has 64,000,000 population and $992 per capita. Germany lacks capital for her own industrial expansion. The wealth of France has been brought about through the saving habit of an industrious people.

The Farm Journal says: "Place a two-pound paper bag over each bunch of grapes when the fruit is the size of small shot. This protects the grapes from insect and bird injury, and insures extra-choice clusters. Fasten the mouth of the bag close about each stem, with a pin, or wire, or string."
